

Help patients connect to essential food and nutrition, housing, and other social care services

Health care providers are critical in this effort – help connect Medicaid Members to community services that may address their social needs and improve their health and wellbeing.

Interested health care providers should reach out to learn how to become a Social Care Network partner, which may include reimbursement for screening and social care navigation conducted as part of the program.

New York State Medicaid is expanding access to services to address health-related social needs through Social Care Networks. WeLinkCare by FLIPA is seeking providers in the community to join in this effort.

Services coordinated by Social Care Networks include:

Nutrition

Transportation

Housing
